

Gaillardia aristata

Blanket Flower

A native perennial with long-lasting color, and drought-tolerant, too! Yellow edges with red or pinkish centers make this plant an eye-catcher. Butterflies like Gaillardia as much as people do. Gaillardia prefers light soils. Full sun and good drainage is necessary for blanket flower to thrive. In a good location it will spread beautifully. Do not let stems and roots stay wet or they will rot. Mulch well, especially in winter.
